UNFINISHED BUSINESS: There was no unfinished business.

NEW BUSINESS:

Town Hall Meeting: Twin Falls County Commissioner Don Hall presented information on the five major projects the counties in Idaho will be focused on in the 2025 Idaho Legislative session. Those included a vape tax with funds going to juvenile service needs, election consolidation, visitor tax on hotel beds to help cover cost of tourism influx, public defense and recent changes management and funding, and finally 911 fees for dispatch infrastructure. Don also discussed the new Twin Falls County courthouse project in downtown Twin Falls.

Twin Falls County Commissioner Jack Johnson noted since he was unopposed in the November 5th election he will be the Twin Falls County elect sheriff. He discussed the plans and project for the county facility on Wright Avenue that had been the juvenile services, which was moved to the County West building. This project will turn the facility into a jail as Twin Falls County is paying other counties each month to house Twin Falls County inmates in their jails. He stated the first phase will add 165 beds. Jack also discussed the situations with Lava Ridge and Salmon Falls and what the county had recently done to control energy projects on private ground within the county.

Twin Falls County Commissioner Brent Reinke presented information on the recent treatment of the quagga muscle in the Snake River. He stated the Department of Agriculture had covered eight miles for ten days using 60,000 gallons of product. The totes used to dispense the product were monitored 24/7 and approximately 40 people work those ten days; they will be back in November for an additional treatment.

Twin Falls County Commissioner Candidate Rocky Matthews provided information about a recent project at Centennial Park funded by Idaho State Department of Agriculture to repave and restripe the park to coordinate users of the park. He noted the park is still closed to watercraft but hopes to open up soon.

Brent also mentioned the recent training that was taking place at the Twin Falls Airport with the US Airforce f-15 and approximately 200 service staff living in tents. He added that Twin Falls County is asking for volunteers to the county planning and zoning board.

Questions for the Commissioners and Council were then taken from the audience.

MEETING ADJOURNED – Marla moved that the meeting be adjourned; Kelly seconded the motion. There was no discussion. All vote aye. The meeting was adjourned at 7:50 p.m.
